Information in this guide

We have prepared this guide in good faith. The information in it is based on our understanding of current law and practice.

Neither Ecclesiastical Insurance Office plc nor any of its subsidiaries accept any liability whatsoever for any errors or omissions in this guide that result in injury, loss or damage, including financial loss. It is the responsibility of the Insured or any person to ensure that they comply with their statutory obligations.

Any interpretation or implementation of this guide is at the sole discretion of the reader.

The Ecclesiastical claims difference

At Ecclesiastical, we like to keep claims simple.

When you claim, we'll look at your cover to see how we can best compensate you. We'll work swiftly, and deal with your claim fairly. If we can resolve your claim when you first contact us, we will. But if it's a little more complicated, we'll make sure you always know what's going on. We'll also give you direct access to the expert claims handler dealing with your claim, who will be able to make key decisions about your claim.

We'll take a proactive approach to protecting your interests against third party legal liability claims. And we'll always consult you before making any admission of liability.

If you have any queries at any point during your claim, please get in touch with us straightaway.

Our claims promise

- We're here when you need to make a new claim – 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.
- You can claim by telephone, by email, or online. You can also fax or post your claim if you want to.
- We'll respond to your claim within one working day of you making it.
- We'll give you the name and direct contact details of the person who is handling your claim, so you always know who to talk to with any questions you may have.
- We'll pay your claim within four working days of agreeing the amount. You can choose whether to have the money paid straight into your bank account, or by cheque.
- We'll make your claim as simple as we can.

98% customer satisfaction – with 92% extremely or very satisfied

People only really get to know their insurer when they make a claim. That's why we're dedicated to ensuring the highest levels of customer satisfaction.

Our 98% customer satisfaction score among customers who make a claim is not enough for us, which is why we're proud that 92% say they're extremely or very satisfied with our claims service.

Based on 761 responses to Ecclesiastical's 2009 Claims Satisfaction Survey

Property claims

If you need to claim, please do so as soon as you can.

This will help us to give you the best possible claims experience.

You don't need to fill in a claim form – just contact us in one of the ways we've listed on page 2.

What we'll need to know

If you make a property claim, we'll need to know:

- your policy number
- what loss or damage has occurred
- when, how and where the loss or damage occurred
- your VAT status (if applicable)
- your bank details for settlement, if applicable.

If your claim involves theft, malicious damage or accidental loss, we'll also need to know:

- when you notified the police
- your crime reference number
- details of the police station that's dealing with the incident.

What happens after you claim

Once we've discussed the circumstances of your claim with you, we'll check your policy cover to see how you're covered. Then we'll guide you through the next stage of your claim, so you know exactly what to expect and when. You'll be responsible for paying the excess.

Types of claims

We've given details on the six main types of property claim in this section:

- damage to buildings
- damage to windows or glazing
- loss, theft or damage to contents
- major loss
- business interruption
- theft of metal.

Damage to buildings

If the repairs you need are straightforward, we may be able to authorise repairs or agree a cash settlement on the basis of an estimate that you provide. If this is the case, we may ask you to supply a detailed estimate for the work so that we can consider settling your claim on the basis of that estimate.

For less straightforward claims, we may need to make further investigations. For example, if there is unexplained damage to an old wall or underground drain it may be difficult to find the cause of the damage. If this is the case, we may instruct a specialist firm to carry out surveys and reports before we make a decision on your claim.

Damage to standard windows or glazing

If your standard windows, glazing or frames are damaged, please call Solaglas Windowcare free on 0800 47 47 47.

Solaglas will repair or replace the damaged items and then invoice us direct.

Damage to stained or specialist glass windows

If your stained or specialist glass windows are damaged, please call us on 0845 603 8381.

We'll work with you to repair or replace the damaged glass using an appropriate supplier.

Loss, theft or damage to contents

We'll ask you to supply us with details of the items that you're claiming for.

Depending on what's most convenient for you, we can either:

- use our supplier network to help you repair or replace the items; or
- ask you for original purchase receipts, and repair or replacement estimates so that we can assess your loss before we propose how to settle your claim.

The kind of items we can arrange repair or replacements for include:

- furniture
- carpets and flooring
- silverware and goldware
- office equipment
- garden equipment.

With heritage and listed buildings, repairs may take longer than normal due to the specialist skills that may be needed.

How to deal with incidents affecting property

There are some important steps you can take if you face an incident affecting your property:

- Talk to our appointed loss adjuster or claims department about measures you can take to mitigate further loss.
- If there is any chance that electrical sockets have come into contact with water, switch off the electricity at the mains.
- If your electricity is switched off following an incident, make sure that a qualified electrician checks the electrical installation before it is switched back on.
- If your gas has to be turned off, make sure that a Gas Safe registered tradesperson checks the gas supply before the gas is switched back on.
- Do not throw away any items until we or our loss adjuster tell you that it's OK to do so.
- Make a list of any damaged items that you need to throw away before you dispose of them. Take a note of make and model numbers, and take photographs of any damage if you have a camera to hand.
- Wear appropriate clothing and gloves when handling anything that has been contaminated by smoke or flood waters. Remember floodwater often contains sewage, so take sensible hygiene precautions.
- Immediately report any criminal damage or theft to the police and keep a record of all details.
- Carry out any reasonable emergency repairs to protect your property from further losses. If you're unsure whether the cost of repair is covered under your insurance, call us on 0845 603 8381.

Major loss

If you're unfortunate enough to suffer a major loss, your claim will be handled by a technical claims handler with the appropriate knowledge and experience to support you. We'll appoint a loss adjuster from our major loss panel, and will look to build a strong team involving all parties to make sure your claim is dealt with quickly and that you are fully involved.

Business interruption

If you suffer property damage that affects the smooth running of your business, it's essential that you tell us straightaway. You should do this whether the business interruption follows the damage immediately or happens later.

Claims for business interruption can be complicated and we'll often ask specialists or accountants to help you manage and calculate your loss. They'll also provide you with the support you need to present your claim.

We'll usually need access to your financial records, and details of any costs you incur. You'll be able to discuss the claims process in more detail with us or our appointed specialists.

Theft of metal

Please check your policy schedule for details of your cover. If you suffer a theft of metal loss, you should immediately:

- notify the police – this is also a condition of your cover
- call us to report the loss.

We'll advise you of the claims process and may arrange for the damage to be inspected. We're happy for you to carry out emergency repairs to make the roof watertight to minimise any damage to the property.

Legal liability claims

If you need to claim, please do so as soon as you can. This will help us to give you the best possible claims experience. You don't need to fill in a claim form – just contact us in one of the ways we've listed on page 2.

Always tell us about any incidents that may fall within your employer or public liability insurance cover, even if you think you're not responsible.

What is a legal liability claim

As a business owner or employer you have legal responsibilities towards your employees and the public. Legal liability cover insures you if a third party is injured, or their property is damaged as a result of a careless or negligent act of your business.

What to do if a claim is made

Legal liability claims usually require detailed investigations, and we'll need you to give our representatives and us as much assistance as you can so that we can resolve the claim.

The injured person or property owner's legal representative will usually tell you about a claim. It's very important that you do not answer any communications without discussing them with us first.

What you need to do:

- Send us, unanswered, the communications that you receive from the injured person, property owner or their legal representative.
- Send us full written details and all documentation relating to the incident.
- Give us the contact details we'll need.

What happens next

Once we've discussed the circumstances of the claim with you, we'll check your policy cover. Then we'll guide you through the next stage of your claim, so you know exactly what to expect and when.

During investigations into your claim, we'll:

- work with you to determine whether you're legally liable for the claim
- liaise directly with the injured person, property owner or their legal representative on your behalf
- where possible for injury claims, consider the benefits to all parties of rehabilitation to help the injured party in their recovery
- appoint a specialist solicitor to act on your behalf if legal proceedings are started
- keep you informed of all significant developments
- help you and offer guidance and support throughout your claim.

The injured person or property owner's legal representative will usually tell you about a claim. It's very important that you do not answer any communications without discussing them with us first.

Establishing liability

If you're legally liable, we'll negotiate the settlement of the claim as quickly as possible to avoid legal costs from escalating.

If you're not legally liable, or only partially liable, we'll take steps to either defend or negotiate liability on your behalf.

Managing risk in the future

Obviously, it's in everybody's interest to try to prevent a similar incident happening again. Whenever possible, we'll provide answers on how this can be achieved.

It's important to allow us to carry out all our investigations before you make any changes to the accident site – apart from immediate safety precautions. If you do plan to make any changes, please contact us first so that we can tell you whether it will affect the claim. It may be that, after taking some photos of the area, we'll be able to agree that you can go ahead with making the changes.

Serious injury

If a serious injury occurs and a claim is anticipated, you may need immediate help to protect your interests.

If you're notified of a serious injury, please call our claims department for advice and assistance immediately.

We may:

- arrange immediate investigation to gather evidence in anticipation of a later claim
- appoint solicitors to help protect your interests in the event of police or other investigations by regulatory or other statutory authorities
- appoint experts to provide advice relating to media coverage and press statements.

Examples of serious injury include:

- fatal injury
 - potential brain injury
 - serious spinal injury
 - amputations
 - severe burns
 - total or partial blindness
 - potential asbestos exposure
 - abuse.

People involved in managing your claim

This section gives a brief description of some of the people who may get involved in managing your claim.

Claims handlers

We'll assign one of our claims handlers with the appropriate knowledge to manage or settle your claim at the earliest possible stage.

Technical claims handlers

If your claim involves complex issues, the claims handler will pass your claim to our technical claims handler.

The technical handler will use their expertise to manage your claim, including liaising with you and any other parties involved.

Property loss adjusters

For property claims, we may ask a loss adjuster to manage your claim on our behalf.

Typically the loss adjuster will investigate the claim, and will:

- contact you to arrange an appointment
- provide advice regarding emergency repairs that may be needed
- explain what's likely to be covered by your policy
- agree the extent of the loss with you
- agree how the necessary repairs or replacement of goods will be carried out.

In many cases, the loss adjuster will be authorised to agree the final amount of your claim with you, and discuss your payment requirements.

The loss adjuster will always contact you before visiting, and will be there to give you full support throughout.

Liability loss adjusters

For legal liability claims, the loss adjuster will investigate the claim, and will:

- make enquiries with witnesses
- assess the accident scene
- offer an opinion on legal liability
- ask to see documentation related to the incident, such as accident book entries.

The injured person or affected property owner may be legally represented, and may seek compensation, so it's important that the claim is dealt with quickly. Because of this, it's important that you help the loss adjuster with their enquiries. Your co-operation and help will improve their chances of success.

The loss adjuster will always contact you before visiting, and will be there to give you full support throughout.

Solicitors

It may be necessary for us to appoint solicitors for specialist legal advice. The two main areas that solicitors help us with are:

- defending and negotiating legal liability claims on your behalf
- recovering our costs paid out on claims.

Your co-operation and help will improve their chances of success.

Suppliers

We maintain a list of suppliers that reflects the needs of our customers, and have access to a wide range of specialists who can assist with the repair or replacement of your damaged contents.

Fighting insurance fraud

Bogus and inflated insurance claims lead to increased costs for honest customers through the need to charge higher insurance premiums.

Insurance fraud can range from individuals exaggerating a loss or making a false claim, through to organised rings spanning several insurance companies and crossing national boundaries.

Our policy on insurance fraud

We believe that fighting insurance fraud is a responsibility we have to our customers, employees, and the communities where we do business.

We will not pay a fraudulent claim.

We will spare no expense when fighting fraud.

Identifying insurance fraud

Every member of our claims team can identify signs of fraud, and is ready to help our customers fight fraud too.

Reporting your concerns about insurance fraud

If you have any concerns or suspicions about insurance fraud, please call our Risk Manager on 0845 603 8381.

You can also call the Insurance Fraud Bureau on their free and confidential phone line: Cheathline 0800 328 2550.

Making a complaint

We aim to provide the highest standards of claims service. However, if you have any reason to complain about the advice or service you receive, please contact our Claims & Risk Services Director.

How to complain

You can make your complaint in writing or by phone.
